

‘A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked. Because thou hast made the LORD, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation; There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways... Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him... He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him. With long life will I satisfy him, and show him my salvation.’

Do you see the lady's face in the passenger's seat of this burned out car in Paradise?
On an internet video Tim O'Connel shows that while the fire was racing in like a giant demon, he went to help a friend get out of there - fast! They had about a minute to race away, or die. Because of this, many who got into their cars too late, were burned to skeletons.

Tim said that his friend's wife had to put her makeup on. So Tim rushed away and barely escaped. She put her makeup on, and then tore out to the car to be with her dear husband - to race away. And here they are.

Hope: While the flames were eating the flesh off their bones, what comfort did it give her that she had her makeup on?

Pastor Jan: Dear Jesus said, "Remember Lot's wife." Luke 17:32.

Dear SDA friends around the world,

Greetings in Jesus' holy name. Read all the boxes in this letter, then come back here and we'll talk about what's happening.

SAFETY
DIRECTED ENERGY WEAPONS (DEW)
COMPLIANCE WITH THIS PUBLICATION IS MANDATORY
ACCESSIBILITY: Publications and forms are available for download and printing on the following website: www.e-Publishing.af.mil
RELEASABILITY: This document is classified as follows: Directed Energy Weapons (DEW)
OPR: AFSC/SEWN Certified by: AF/SE (Maj Gen Gregory A. Feest) Pages: 4
Supersedes: AFPD 91-4, 11 July 2003
This Directive establishes Air Force directed energy weapons safety policy. Directed energy weapons provide unprecedented capabilities and produce a broad spectrum of hazards. These hazards require specific safety measures to prevent directed energy weapon mishaps. This Directive is consistent with Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 6055.1, DoD Safety and Occupational Health (SOH) Program, and AFPD 90-8, Environmental, Safety & Occupational Health Management and Risk Management. This publication applies to Air Force, Air Force Reserve (AFR), and Air National Guard (ANG) units. Ensure that all records created as a result of processes prescribed in this publication are maintained in accordance with Air Force Manual (AFMAN) 33-363, Management of Records, and disposed of in accordance with Air Force Records Disposition Schedule (RDS) located at www.afm33-363.com

On page 2 I'll tell you what this small print says. Here's the "Air Force Policy Directive" concerning the use of Directed Energy Weapons (Lasers) - which were used to produce things that you saw in my Mid December letter, my Mid March letter, and in this letter. On this same website, you see the dear lady in the picture above, and others like her in a scenario that many believe to be a fulfillment of this -

"The plagues of God are already falling upon the earth, sweeping away the most costly structures as if by a breath of fire from heaven. Will not these judgments bring professing Christians to their senses? God permits them to come that the world may take heed, that sinners may be afraid and tremble before Him." LDE 28.

Here's the website address that shows these shocking things that are happening here in the end of the world -

www.youtube.com/watch?reload=9&v=ppDusFw-O74&feature=youtu.be

Faith: The Bible verse says, "Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked." Why does our kind Father allow His dear people to see the reward of the wicked? Is it to bring everyone to our senses, and cause us to turn from the pleasure of the devil's exciting death march and move us to cling to Jesus as never since we were born?

Hope: We Laodiceans aren't used to seeing "the reward of the wicked." We'd rather eat a pizza. And we aren't used to having our large churches and homes turn to ashes "as if by a breath of fire from heaven." LDE 28. And we're not used to learning about the secret workings of Catholic priests, or being "brought into close combat with the beast and his image." EW 254. What good are these things that our kind Father is allowing the devil to do in the end of the world?

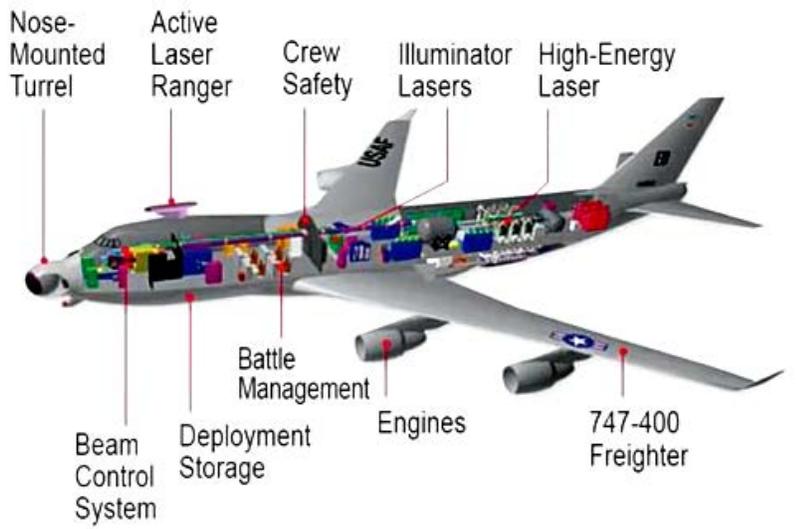

Pastor Jan: Are you ready? Here we go -

The small print on the Air Force Policy Directive 91-J says -

Faith: What does all this have to do with the shortness of time, the value of a soul, and the end of the world?

Pastor Jan: Watch closely - “Their useless, idle life made them a prey to Satan’s temptations, and they defaced the image of God [in their own bodies as sex fiends]... Idleness is the greatest curse that can fall upon man, for vice and crime follow in its train.

The coolness of eventide had called forth the inhabitants of the city, and the pleasure-seeking throngs were passing to and fro, intent upon the enjoyment of the hour.

“In the twilight two strangers drew near to the city gate. They were apparently travelers coming in to tarry for the night. “Lot did not know their true character, but politeness and hospitality were habitual with him... Had he not cultivated a spirit of courtesy, he might have been left to perish with the rest of Sodom...”

“Every act of life, however small, has its bearing for good or for evil. Faithfulness or neglect in what are apparently the smallest duties may open the door for life’s richest blessings or its greatest calamities... We are not to live for self, but for others... The little attentions, the small, simple courtesies, go far to make up the sum of life’s happiness, and the neglect of these constitutes no small share of human wretchedness.

“Seeing the abuse to which strangers were exposed in Sodom, Lot made it one of his duties to guard them at their entrance, by offering them entertainment at his own house. He was sitting at the gate as the travelers approached, and upon observing them, he rose from his place to meet them, and bowing courteously, said, ‘Behold now, my lords, turn in, I pray you, into your servant’s house, and tarry all night.’ They seemed to decline his hospitality, saying, ‘Nay; but we will abide in the street...’ Their answer made Lot the more determined not to leave them to the mercy of the rabble. He pressed his invitation until they yielded, and accompanied him to his house...”

“Lot had warned them not to venture out of his door that night, when the hooting and jeers of the mob were heard, demanding that the men be brought out to them.

“Knowing that if provoked to violence they could easily break into his house, Lot went out to try the effect of persuasion upon them. ‘I pray you, brethren,’ he said, ‘do not so wickedly...’ But his words were like oil upon the flames. Their rage became like the roaring of a tempest. They mocked Lot as making himself a judge over them, and threatened to deal worse with him than they had purposed toward his guests. They rushed upon him, and would have torn him in pieces had he not been rescued by the angels of God. The heavenly messengers ‘put forth their hand, and pulled Lot into the house to them, and shut to the door.’ The events that followed, revealed the character of the guests he had entertained. ‘They smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great: so that they wearied themselves to find the door...’ [Hope: Since they were blind, why did they weary themselves to find the door? Pastor Jan: Because they were totally controlled by demons. Time now is so short that many millions around the world are also in that condition.] That last night was marked by no greater sins than many others before it, but mercy, so long slighted, had at last ceased its pleading. [That will happen again soon. The prophet said, “The Lord will arise to shake terribly the earth. We shall see troubles on all sides. Probation is closing. Oh, let us seek God while He may be found, call upon Him while He is near!” LDE 24.] The inhabitants of Sodom had passed the limits of divine forbearance— ‘the hidden boundary between God’s patience and His wrath.’

“The angels revealed to Lot the object of their mission: ‘We will destroy this place, because the cry of them is waxen great before the face of the Lord; and the Lord hath sent us to destroy it.’ The strangers whom Lot had endeavored to protect, now promised to protect him, and to save also all the members of his family who would flee with him from the wicked city. The mob had wearied themselves out and departed, and Lot went out to warn his children. He repeated the words of the angels, ‘Up, get you out of this place; for the Lord will destroy this city.’ But he seemed to them as one that mocked. They laughed at what they called his superstitious fears. His daughters were influenced by their husbands. They were well enough off where they were. They could see no evidence of danger.

Dear Sir,

I left the Roman Catholic church and became a Seventh-day Adventist a few years ago. I was educated in a Catholic school, and was asked to study to be a nun. My brothers were altar boys and my mother earnestly worked for the Church, trying to save herself and us from the fires of hell. I have seen many things going on in the Roman church behind the scenes.

I know a priest who is employed by the Catholic Church, and who is working part-time as a chaplain at an Adventist Hospital. He knows the Catholic church is in error according to the scriptures, but he chooses to remain a Catholic priest because of his oath, and because of the money.

I know how they fool the people by pretending to believe the truth of God. But why not? After all, they were taught to be deceivers. In the Catholic school, I was put into a certain class by mistake, and later was transferred out in haste when they found out I did not belong there. While in that class I found out that the Catholic Church sends out her people to deceive and destroy the other churches. While still in this class, we students were informed that after we take our vows, we would work for the Catholic Church by joining Protestant churches to deceive them, and to cause them to turn toward the Catholic faith. Protestant church members do not know that the Catholic Church runs their church. Only those members that are nuns and priests in disguise know the truth concerning it.

The so-called “Protestant” churches that worship on Sunday are already in error and many of their ministers, through fear, have secretly paid homage to the pope and are being controlled as to how they are to run their churches and teach their members. Many people in these churches believe the pope has no control over them, but they have a big surprise coming, which will be terrible.

The Roman Church has been sending her agents into Protestant churches for many years. In that class, they were training us to be infiltrators into these churches. After I left that class, the friends I had in that class behaved as though they did not know me. For a while, I feared for my life after being in that class. I knew that the Catholic Church is in total error. I had been reading my mother’s Bible since about eight years old and I believed every sweet word from Jesus that I read in the red lettering, and so I was aware of many errors taught by the priests. If anyone I know ever spoke of this openly, the Catholics would seek to destroy me. But I fear not their strength, for ‘greater is He that is in me.’ He is my protector and my guide. It took me many years to find this Sabbath-keeping people, but the Lord led me at a safe pace for my own good. The Catholic Church is behind the errors, and she hopes to turn the Seventh-day Adventist church into a Sunday-keeping church, or else completely destroy its members by persecution if they will not change. Many Catholics have come and joined the Seventh-day Adventist church to help accomplish that. They are disguising it as though they are from other church backgrounds. But the Lord will make known their sins. No secret can be kept from Him. Sincerely, E.S.

Dear Sir;

My husband and I read your book “National Sunday Law.” We haven’t been the same since then. Reading your book woke us up, and praise God, we have been studying and searching God’s word ever since. May God bless you. G.Y.

Dear Pastor Jan,

I was born into a family of atheists and evolutionists. Sometimes I would wonder if there is any absolute truth and if God really exists. One day I was involved in a horrific accident - and I walked away untouched. I knew that only supernatural power could have protected me. Soon after that, I was surfing the internet and I ran across a book entitled “National Sunday Law.” I was convinced that the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord and that the Seventh-day Adventist people are God’s true remnant people who keep the commandments of God. Thank you for that wonderful little book! I thank God for all who will not compromise with error. David N. New Jersey

Everything was just as it had been. They had great possessions, and they could not believe it possible that beautiful Sodom would be destroyed.

“Lot returned sorrowfully to his home and told the story of his failure. Then the angels bade him arise and take his wife and the two daughters who were yet in his house and leave the city. But Lot delayed. Though daily distressed at beholding deeds of violence, he had no true conception of the debasing and abominable iniquity practiced in that vile city. [Neither do we.] He did not realize the terrible necessity for God’s judgments to put a check on sin. It was hard to forsake his luxurious home and all the wealth acquired by the labors of his whole life, to go forth a destitute wanderer. [We will have the same test after the mark of the beast is enforced by law.] Stupefied with sorrow, he lingered, loath to depart. But for the angels of God, they would all have perished in the ruin of Sodom. The heavenly messengers took him and his wife and daughters by the hand and led them out of the city.

“Here the angels left them, and turned back to Sodom to accomplish their work of destruction. Another—He with whom Abraham had pleaded— [the Lovely Jesus!] drew near to Lot. [Dear Jesus is drawing near to you!] In all the cities of the plain, even ten righteous persons had not been found... The command was given with startling vehemence: ‘Escape for thy life; look not behind thee, neither stay thou in all the plain; escape to the mountain, lest thou be consumed.’ Hesitancy or delay now [to put your makeup on] would be fatal.

To cast one lingering look upon the devoted city, to tarry for one moment from regret to leave so beautiful a home, would have cost their life. The storm of divine judgment was only waiting that these poor fugitives might make their escape.

“But Lot, confused and terrified, pleaded that he could not do as he was required lest some evil should overtake him and he should die... The Prince of heaven [do you see His tender face?] was by his side, yet he pleaded for his own life as though God, who had manifested such care and love for him, would not still preserve him. He should have trusted himself wholly to the divine Messenger, giving his will and his life into the Lord’s hands without a doubt or a question. But like so many others, he endeavored to plan for himself: ‘Behold now, this city is near to flee unto, and it is a little one: O, let me escape thither, (is it not a little one?) and my soul shall live...’

“Again the solemn command was given to hasten, for the fiery storm would be delayed but little longer. But one of the fugitives ventured to cast a look backward to the doomed city, and she became [a pillar of salt] a monument of God’s judgment. If Lot himself had manifested no hesitancy to obey the angels’ warning, but had earnestly fled toward the mountains, without one word of pleading or remonstrance, his wife also would have made her escape. The influence of his example would have saved her from the sin that sealed her doom. But his hesitancy and delay caused her to lightly regard the divine warning. While her body was upon the plain, her heart clung to Sodom, and she perished with it...

“‘The sun was risen upon the earth when Lot entered into Zoar.’ The bright rays of the morning seemed to speak only prosperity and peace to the cities of the plain. The stir of active life began in the streets; men were going their various ways, intent on the business or the pleasures of the day. The sons-in-law of Lot were making merry at the fears and warnings of the weak-minded old man. Suddenly and unexpectedly as would be a thunder peal from an unclouded sky, the tempest broke. The Lord rained brimstone and fire out of heaven upon the cities and the fruitful plain; its palaces and temples, costly dwellings, gardens and vineyards, and the gay, pleasure-seeking throngs that only the night before had insulted the messengers of heaven—all were consumed. The smoke of the conflagration went up like the smoke of a great furnace.

Dear Pastor Marcussen,

Greetings from a new creature in Christ. God has used your book "National Sunday Law" in such a way that my eyes have been anointed to see the truth as it is laid before me, and I have accepted this awesome truth and hold it close to my heart!! It's such a blessing to help spread God's truth to as many as I can! I wish I had a million dollars to get many "National Sunday Law" books out to the people! I can't thank you enough for all that I have learned. Praise the Lord! God is awesome! Yours in Christ, Randy

Dear Pastor Jan,

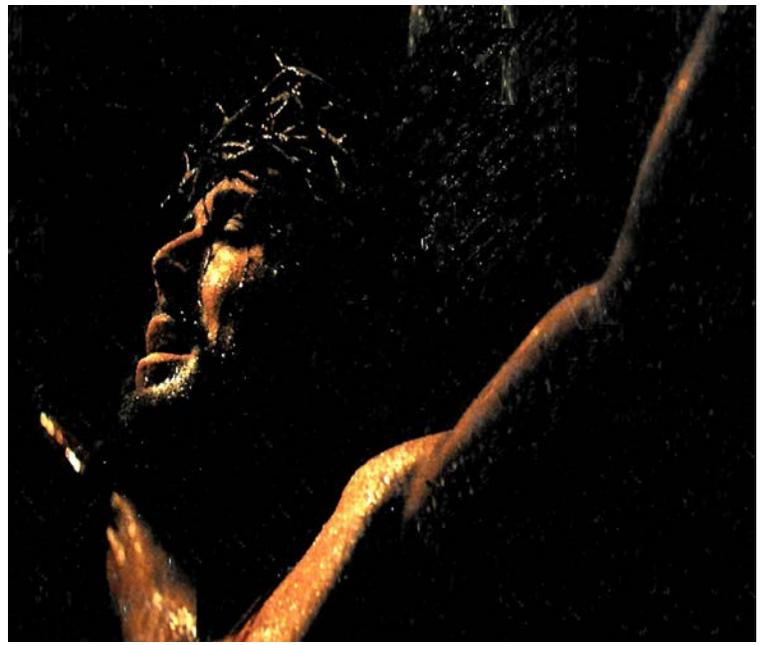

Everyone in the world should read "National Sunday Law!" Surely God has blessed you greatly with this insight. I have become a Seventh-day Adventist. Jesus is Lord! May God bless you greatly for enlightening the people with His truth! Your brother in Christ, Vincent LA

Dear Pastor Jan,

Thank you so much for the NSL preachers. God is using them in miraculous ways. In 3 hours I was able to put 150 of them into the hands of some very open people. I told them about my 22 years of slavery to drugs, and of the Lord's intervention with this NSL book. One person who took one was a Muslim lady. Two others were Jehovah's Witnesses who don't usually take anything. Three of them were police officers. Another was a security guard for the Chase bank, and about 50 other people who were on a Greyhound bus going all over the U.S. Praise God! Your faithful sister in Christ, Lili.

“The flames that consumed the cities of the plain shed their warning light down to our time. We are taught the fearful and solemn lesson that while God’s mercy bears long with the transgressor, there is a limit beyond which men may not go on in sin. When that limit is reached, then the offers of mercy are withdrawn, and the ministration of judgment begins.

“The Redeemer of the world declares that there are greater sins than that for which Sodom and Gomorrah were destroyed. Those who hear the gospel invitation calling sinners to repentance, and heed it not, are more guilty before God than were the dwellers in the vale of Siddim. And still greater sin is theirs who profess to know God and to keep His commandments, yet who deny Christ in their character and their daily life. [That’s a description of most church members today. That’s why, when the mark of the beast is enforced by law, “the majority forsake us” LDE 180.]

“Hope thou in God, for on Calvary’s cross a complete sacrifice was offered for you... Eternal joy—a life of undimmed happiness—awaits the one who surrenders all to Christ.” HP 262. “When at the foot of the cross the sinner looks up to the One who died to save him, he may rejoice with fulness of joy; for his sins are pardoned.” SD 222. Praise God friend! Praise God!

Hello Pastor Marcussen! I’m a prisoner at this prison camp. From reading your newsletter God brought me new life. Some people sent me 50 “National Sunday Law” books. These 50 little preachers have gone through this prison camp like wildfire! When I walk around in here I see prisoner’s reading the NSL books on their bunk beds; I see the NSL books lying on their lockers, on the tables at their meals, and in various places! With the help of a brother we’ve started a Bible study here, and we often use your writings from the NSL book to help us. The little NSL preacher is an awesome tool in getting the meaning of God’s word to these spiritually blinded people. They are truly a blessing to us here! Thank you Jesus! R.P.

“The Saviour watches for a response to His offers of love and forgiveness, with a more tender compassion than that which moves the heart of an earthly parent to forgive a wayward, suffering son. He cries after the wanderer, ‘Return unto Me, and I will return unto you.’ Mal. 3:7...

“A time will come when the account will be full; when the soul’s decision has been made; when by his own choice man’s destiny has been fixed... Fearful will be the doom of that soul of whom the pleading Saviour shall finally declare, he ‘is joined to idols: let him alone.’ Hosea 4:17...

“There is cause for alarm in the condition of the religious world today. God’s mercy has been trifled with... Christ declared, ‘As it was in the days of Lot, ... even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed.’ Lk. 17:28,30... The world is fast becoming ripe for destruction. Soon the judgments of God are to be poured out, and sin and sinners are to be consumed...

“Before the destruction of Sodom, God sent a message to Lot, ‘Escape for thy life; look not behind thee, neither stay thou in all the plain; escape to the mountain, lest thou be consumed.’ The same voice of warning was heard by the disciples of Christ before the destruction of Jerusalem... and so it will be in the last days. Again the voice of God is heard in a message of warning, bidding His people separate themselves from the prevailing iniquity.

“Like the dwellers in the vale of Siddim, the people are dreaming of prosperity and peace. ‘Escape for thy life,’ is the warning from the angels of God; but other voices are heard saying, ‘Be not excited; there is no cause for alarm.’ The multitudes cry, ‘Peace and safety,’ while Heaven declares that swift destruction is about to come upon the transgressor. On the night prior to their destruction, the cities of the plain rioted in pleasure and derided the fears and warnings of the messenger of God; but those scoffers perished in the flames...

“The great mass of the world will reject God’s mercy, and will be overwhelmed in swift and irretrievable ruin. But those who heed the warning shall dwell ‘in the secret place of the Most High,’ and ‘abide under the shadow of the Almighty.’ His truth shall be their shield and buckler. For them is the promise, ‘With long life will I satisfy him, and show him My salvation.’ Ps. 91:1,4,16.” PP 156-167.

Dear Jan Marcussen, Praise God! I just finished reading “National Sunday Law” and it brought me back close with God. I will say that the book saved my life. How wonderful God is! I praise Him. Yours in Christ, Andrew

Dear Pastor Marcussen, Greetings to you from Zambia. I was distributing “National Sunday Law” books at the Zambian National Bank. One man later told me that after reading the NSL book, he decided to become a Seventh-day Adventist. He said that he was troubled by his relatives who wanted him to go back to Catholicism, but he said, “There is no question about it that I have found the truth!” That made joy come into my heart, and I am still rejoicing. Weluzani G. Tembo

“The cry of Christ to the thirsty soul is still going forth, [Praise God!] and it appeals to us with even greater power than to those who heard it in the temple on that last day of the feast. The fountain is open for all. The weary and exhausted ones are offered the refreshing draught of eternal life. Jesus is still crying, ‘If any man thirst, let him come unto
